A message from Your broker

Hi

Thank you for this opportunity to help you achieve your goals - I'm excited to go on this journey with you!

What you can expect from me. I'm your personal negotiator with at least 20 lenders. My focus is on finding and presenting you with options that meet your current needs, keeping the process simple, and importantly, helping you reach your financial goals.

Your personalised Game Plan features a range of competitive options for your new loan (based on your current financial situation). It outlines:

- what we have discussed; the information provided by you on your requirements, objectives and goals
- what I recommend; and why I believe these recommendations are in your best interests
- what it will cost you; we are transparent so any fees, commissions, interest or charges relating to the products and services are laid out for you to see

What's next? Take some time to review these options and understand what it means to proceed. I'm here to answer all your questions. Once you're ready to proceed, I'll prepare your loan application ready for your review, approval, and signature. I'll then submit your application and let you know the moment it's approved by the lender.

I'm just a phone call or email away for any questions you may have.

An overview of the service a mortgage broker provides

The service a mortgage broker provides is called Credit Assistance. At the point of issuing you this document, I've undertaken extensive research, talked to you to understand your needs and objectives and collected information on your current financial circumstances. This has given me the information I need to make a recommendation that is aligned to your best interests.

I have many legislative obligations I must adhere to that ensure your needs and requirements are at the centre of my work. These laws, including but not limited to the National Consumer Credit Protection Act 2009 (Responsible Lending), The Privacy Act 1988, Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (AML/CTF), are designed for your protection.

How mortgage brokers get paid for the work they do

Generally as your mortgage broker, I'll be paid by the lender (with no additional cost to you) in the following ways:

Initial payment

When your loan has "settled", the selected lender will pay me an initial payment as a percentage (%) of the "net borrowings" (total loan, less any amount in the linked offset account). This percentage varies by lender however generally ranges between <insert base commission rate>% and <Insert total commission including GST>% including GST.

If the loan is transferred or is paid out within 2 years of the settlement date, the lender may reclaim some or all of these commissions from me.

Ongoing monthly payments

The selected lender may also pay an ongoing monthly payment to me as a percentage (%) calculated and paid on the outstanding balance of your loan at the end of each month. The percentage varies by lender and includes GST.

Regardless of how I'm paid by a lender, I'll be there to help you with any questions both now and throughout the life of the loan!

Some or all of these fees may be paid from the finance proceeds. We are not aware of any other fees or charges payable to anyone else in relation to the application for finance, but the financier may impose some additional requirements.

Mortgage broker commission (paid by the lender)

*In making my assessment about the recommendation in this Game Plan, I emphasise that at all times I have prioritised your interests above any potential conflicts with third parties that referred you to me as a potential client.

Interest rates and repayments: these may change from those disclosed in this document if the lender changes its interest rate. Before you accept your loan offer, you should check it carefully to ensure that the terms of the loan meet your requirements as they may differ from the terms set out in this document.

Comparison rates: this helps you identify the overall cost of a loan rather than just the advertised interest rate and allows you to compare loans from different lenders. It factors in interest rates, your loan amount, repayment frequencies and any account fees and charges. It doesn't include government fees and charges or fees/charges that are only required in certain circumstances (e.g. if you pay off the loan early). As this comparison rate is tailored to your scenario, it will differ from the lenders advertised comparison rate. WARNING: this comparison rate is true only for this example and may not include all fees and charges. Different terms, fees or other loan amounts might result in different comparison rates. Fixed rate warning: if you exit a fixed rate loan before the term expires, you may need to pay a "Break Cost" which is determined by your lender at the time. You should consider your objectives when fixing your loan term e.g. if you intend to sell your home in 2 years then you likely wouldn't request a 5 year fixed rate term.
